Thieves steal bronze memorial plaque to victims of Holocaust

THIEVES looking to cash in on the rocketing price of scrap metal have stooped to a new low by stealing a bronze memorial plaque commemorating the victims of the Nazi holocaust.

The bronze plate had been commissioned by Harlow Council and was laid during a ceremony in January 2001.

It carried the words: "This garden is dedicated to the victims of the Nazi regime in Germany (1933-1945) and all peoples of the world who have suffered persecution or been victims of atrocities or genocide."

Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson described the theft as "deeply disturbing" and called for tighter regulation of the scrap industry and tougher penalties for thieves to stop what appeared to be an "epidemic" in thefts of similar plaques.

"There has to be a deterrent to stop what is a deeply disturbing trend," he told the Star.

"People who are prepared to steal a plaque honouring the Jewish victims of Nazi persecution are clearly without conscience and are unlikely to be intimidated by a minor fine."

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

"The other people equally guilty are those who are prepared to melt these metals down and I think the time has come to look at tighter regulation for the scrap business."

"There are obviously plenty of perfectly respectable scrap metal businesses but there are clearly others on the margins who are prepared to turn a blind eye."

He added: "If we can stop thieves turning these callous thefts into cash, it will be a powerful deterrent."

The authority is now commissioning a new granite plaque ahead of Holocaust Memorial Day on January 27.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who had family members suffer at the hands of the Nazis in the Bergen-Belsen concentration camp, said the thieves should be made to visit Auschwitz as part of their punishment.

"Harlow has a long tradition of commemorating the Holocaust and for this to happen during Hanukkah has been a huge shock to the town's Jewish community," he said.

"I very much hope that the people responsible for this most callous of crimes are found by police."

"As part of the consequences of their actions I think they should be made to visit Auschwitz. They would certainly then never do anything like this again."

MIDWIVES at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital were kept busy on Christmas Day when they helped to deliver a sackful of new arrivals. Nine babies were born during the day, the first making an appearance at 2.27am. This picture of all nine was taken by nursery nurse Lorraine Bayfield. »Full story, page 10

'Loyal' son who hit his mother is spared jail

A MAN who struck his elderly mother who suffers from Alzheimers, knocking her against a wall and causing multiple fractures around her left eye, has been spared a jail sentence.

Martin Brown (52), of Longfields, Harlow, was described by a judge as "a loyal son who snapped".

Brown admitted a charge of wounding and was given a 12-month community order with supervision.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told he had stepped into the breach over his mother's care when the authorities had been unable to help and had gone to live with her.

Brown told police in an interview that the incident occurred while his mother had been washing up.

He saw the sink was full and leaned across to turn off the tap but she took offence and struck him. It was then that he "snapped" and he hit her back.

His mother was left with swelling to the face and multiple fractures of her skull around her left eye. The swelling caused the eye to close completely and she was in hospital for 11 days.

Charles Corbett, representing Brown, said in mitigation: "He gave up his work to care for her and moved in from his home in Bishop's Stortford. It became too much for him; he's an only son."

Passing sentence, judge Anthony Goldstaub said: "Some people who assault Alzheimers victims will deserve to go to prison but this is not one of those cases."

"He was a loyal son who snapped."

Daughter's fury after mum's pavement trip

THE daughter of an elderly woman who suffered serious injuries after tripping on loose paving slabs near her home in Harlow has accused Essex County Council of negligence.

Veronica Johansson, of Tany's Dell, was walking mum Elizabeth Cullen home when the frail pensioner tripped on an uneven paving slab which sent her crashing to the ground.

The 80-year-old, who suffers from Alzheimer's, sustained cuts and bruises to her eye, face, shoulder knees and hands. She had to be taken to hospital for treatment.

Veronica told the Star the fall had been an "accident waiting to happen" after her repeated complaints about the state of the pavement were dismissed by County Hall risk assessors.

"Mum fell on the same stretch of pavement two years ago and I have been trying to get the county council to sort the problem out ever since," she said.

"I have complained repeatedly but their risk assessors keep telling me it's not dangerous."

"I would suggest they go and pay my mum a visit if they still think there's no risk. She looks like she's gone 10 rounds with Mike Tyson."

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

She added: "If it hadn't been for the three lads who came to help us and the man who went to alert my husband, my mum could have been in real trouble."

"It just makes me so angry that the council has known about this problem for two years and still hasn't done anything about it."

County councillor Tracey Chapman, cabinet member for highways and transportation, confirmed the pavement had been inspected back in July but had not met the criteria for repair.

"We will send another inspector to the site to make a further assessment following this fall, but we are currently waiting for further details from the resident on the exact location so we know which section of the area to assess," she added.

"Our residents' safety is our priority and we will always carry out ad-hoc inspections when an issue is brought to our attention and any work required will be prioritised according to severity and dealt with appropriately."

"We are sorry to hear this resident's mother has had a fall and wish her a speedy recovery."

Halfon visits town's haven for homeless

HOMELESS people in Harlow have been able to enjoy some festive cheer over the Christmas period thanks to the efforts of scores of volunteers at a local shelter.

The Haven Homeless Shelter, which was officially opened by Harlow MP Robert Halfon on Christmas Eve, offers accommodation and food to the less fortunate over the holidays.

Organised by homeless charity the Harlow Chocolate Run, the centre at the Great Parndon Community Association in Abercrombie Way will remain open until New Year's Day.

Mr Halfon said: "I was delighted to be invited to visit the shelter which is offering homeless people somewhere to stay and to have a hot meal over the Christmas and New Year period."

Charity chairman Mick Granger said he that he had been overwhelmed by the number of people offering their support this year.

"We have already got 120 volunteers and more people are still getting in touch," he said. "It's unbelievable."

Is Christmas shutdown a sign of things to come?

SIR, Members of Harlow TUC read with interest the article in the December 15 edition of the Star regarding Harlow Council's Christmas shutdown.

The plan to shut council services for 10 days to save, amongst other measures, around £100,000 was viewed as absolutely extraordinary.

Never since the three-day week of Edward Heath's Conservative government of 1974 have services been closed to the public for such an extended period. This demonstrates the bankruptcy of austerity measures being implemented by this coalition government and their Tory council leaders.

The Christmas shutdown overlooks the fact that council taxpayers and tenants pay for services to be supplied all year round. This clearly shows the folly of trying to meet local needs based on finances designed to cut services to the bone and justify wholesale privatisation. Council taxpayer and tenants are being short-changed.

To suspend refuse collection services over the peak rubbish generating period of Christmas is ludicrous. I fully expect to see wheelie bins overflowing or numerous car journeys made to the council recycling centre in River Way. Families will also be able to enjoy reading the 'Closed' signs at The Gibberd Gallery, Harlow Museum and Pets' Corner.

At a time when people are off work, which would have allowed council maintenance staff to perform minor maintenance repairs, they will now have to take more time off in the new year. I assume the council staff who are off over this shutdown period will not be paid, so making this a cheerless holiday for them.

Austerity measures only punish ordinary working people and not the ones responsible for causing the financial crisis – the financial services industry.

With the Tory government set to impose harsh cuts to local authorities in the coming years, can Harlow's council taxpayers look forward to Easter and summer shutdowns?

David Forman, secretary
Harlow Trades Council

aid to Britain under America's Marshall Plan to regenerate Europe after the Second World War – by far the biggest payout of the 18 nations to benefit from US generosity.

So what did the last 60 years of Labour rule accomplish? With a £20m legacy from Margaret Thatcher's government, did Labour secure the future of The Playhouse? No, they actually closed it! Did they invest in our Town Park? No, they left it to decay. Did they invest in Harlow's housing? No, they allowed it to crumble. Did they rebuild the Town Centre? No, we're still waiting. Did they refurbish the swimming pool? No, they closed it when it became unsafe. Did they rebuild the Sportcentre? No, that had to wait until last year. Did they give Harlow a first class council? No, the Audit Commission said they provided poor services and poor value for money. The list of Labour's failure goes on and on.

Now here we are again. Like 1979 when Labour's Callaghan and Healey had to go to the IMF for a bailout, the nation is again saddled with Labour's debts. It will take a generation to get us out of this fine mess.

Far from following Labour's advice to borrow more, this Conservative council has balanced Harlow's books, provided three balanced budgets, frozen council tax, begun the stalled regeneration of Harlow's housing and town centre, improved our housing services, collected more outstanding rent and council tax and secured Enterprise Zone status for Harlow's business development. And we have a plan to secure all the services Stan says we are "attacking".

Stan accuses me of cheap sneers about loony left philosophies and bankrupting the council. No, Stan, they haven't come cheap. This Conservative council and this coalition government has inherited from Labour a town and a nation with the worst economy since the war.

Or is Stan one of those who deny this historic fact?

Councillor Tony Hall (Conservative)
Kingsdon Lane, Harlow

perhaps your greatest national treasure.

But if the new planning rules go unamended they will mark a significant relaxation of protection for the so-called 'ordinary' countryside, the countryside next door which may have no special designation like a National Park but which is so important to so many people.

The Campaign to Protect Rural England wants the countryside to support thriving communities, provide a haven for wildlife, and produce healthy local food with the help of genuinely sustainable planning. This depends upon the quality of life the countryside gives us all – through its beauty, tranquillity, local distinctiveness and open space. This should be valued as much as material goods and economic growth.

On behalf of CPRE, I would like to urge readers to join us in standing up for the countryside by writing to their MPs to let them know that they want the planning system to protect their local countryside, not just specially designated areas.

Bill Bryson, president
Campaign to Protect Rural England

Thanks for a great day

SIR, My daughter was invited to be part of the children's Christmas pantomime trip organised by funeral directors Daniel Robinson & Sons (Star, December 22).

I and my family would like to convey my thanks and appreciation to all the people who were involved in the day, including the traffic police who escorted the cavalcade around Harlow, the Heart FM team who entertained us, the vicar and parishioners of St Paul's Church who made us so welcome and laid on a super lunch.

We were treated to a great performance of Peter Pan at The Playhouse.

Most of all we'd like to thank the brilliant drivers and staff of Daniel Robinson & Sons who made us feel so special for the day.

Act protects rights of disabled workers

IN the current economic climate there is an inevitable increase in the number of people facing dismissal. Those with disabilities often find themselves facing additional risks.

Under the Equality Act 2010, employers have a duty to make reasonable adjustments to avoid people with disabilities being put at a disadvantage compared to the non-disabled.

The need to make reasonable adjustments commonly applies to the working arrangements or physical aspects of the workplace, for example changing your working hours, providing you with a piece of equipment to help you to do the job or replacing steps with a ramp.

However, the requirement to make adjustments also applies to any 'provision, criteria or practice' in the workplace that may put a disabled person at a disadvantage. So, when an employer is considering dismissing employees, adjustments should be considered.

Most dismissals occur for one of two reasons – the employee is not capable of doing the job to an acceptable level either due to sickness or lack of ability, or there is misconduct or a redundancy situation.

In capability dismissals an employer must consider how the disabled person may be disadvantaged by things such as absence policies and make adjustments to these if necessary or, if there is poor performance, then whether or not adjustments may improve it.

Employers may also need to make adjustments to other procedures such as disciplinary hearings.

If an employee is being investigated for alleged misconduct and that employee is disabled, the employer may have to adjust the decision-making process in order to consider the extent to which the employee's disability affected events.

Employers will generally select employees for redundancy by using a set of specified criteria against which the employees can be judged. Whilst they can often look objective, these criteria can disadvantage disabled employees and should be adjusted to ensure that this does not happen.

If an employer does fail to make reasonable adjustments before dismissing an employee, then the employee may be able to claim that they have been discriminated against on the grounds of disability.

We're paying the price for Labour's failures

SIR, Harlow's former Labour MP Stan Newens declares Harlow services are under attack (Letters, December 15) and sets out how he thinks the town benefitted from 60 years of Labour rule.

I have great respect for Stan, who has devoted his life to Harlow and he knows a lot about the past.

His list of Harlow's amenities is right, but he forgets that Harlow was not built by Labour. It was built, directly or indirectly, with $3.3bn in

Glorious countryside too precious to lose

SIR, I would like to alert your readers to the continuing threat to local countryside from the proposed reforms to our planning system, currently being finalised by the Government. It is astounding that, in such a densely populated country, most people are still within easy reach of glorious and productive countryside. I believe one of the principal causes of that happy fact has been that the planning system has enabled necessary economic growth while protecting and enhancing the countryside,

Park zoo's new porkers are doing swine

PETS Corner took delivery of an early Christmas present last week after one of its pigs gave birth to four little porkers.

The two boys and two girls are the first pure-bred litter to be born to two-year-old Tamworth pig Emily.

Staff and volunteers at the council-run petting zoo in Harlow Town Park have been helping them settle in to their new home.

A spokesman for Harlow Council said it expected the new arrivals to be a big attraction for visitors in the New Year.

Fiancee sobs as Scout hut thief gets six months

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsexnews.co.uk

THE only member of a gang to be arrested in connection with the theft of £14,000 worth of equipment from a Scout compound in Harlow has been jailed for six months.

Daron Reader (46) was part of a group of thieves who took the haul from the 1st Great Parndon troop's yard in School Lane on the night of February 4.

He was identified by witness Heidi Shephard, who came forward after she read a report about the crime in the Star.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told Mrs Shephard had been walking her dog when she came across the gang at work. She had talked to Reader, one of five men she saw loading up camping equipment from a container onto a lorry.

None of the property has been recovered.

Reader, of River View, Grays, pleaded not guilty to three charges of theft but was convicted by a jury at an earlier hearing.

He claimed it was a case of mistaken identity and said he had been at his fiancée's home in South Ockendon on the night of the theft.

However, judge Patrick O'Brien told him that although he might still maintain his innocence, he had been convicted "on ample evidence".

FLASHBACK: The Star report which led to the arrest of gang member Daron Reader

The judge told him: "This was part of an organised attack on community premises, a Scout troop hut and grounds. It was well organised, there were two vehicles there ready to take away a considerable volume of property."

The court heard that Reader lived on benefits and had not worked for 10 years because he suffered from asthma, lung disease and poor circulation. He had also been a heroin addict for 20 years.

He has 44 previous convictions, including for burglary, handling and shoplifting, and had served a five-year prison sentence for supplying drugs in 2004.

As he left the dock his weeping fiancée called to him from the public gallery: "I love you"

Mugging victim suffers broken elbow in attack

A VULNERABLE man suffered a broken arm when he was attacked and robbed in Harlow.

The 49-year-old, who suffers from osteoporosis, was walking along the cycle track behind the former Passmore School when he passed a group of four people sitting on a bench.

Moments later he was grabbed from behind and pushed to the floor. He was then punched and kicked, sustaining a broken elbow and a cut eyebrow which required stitches.

The gang stole his mobile phone and a grey Samsung MP3 player.

PC James Smith, of Harlow police, said:

"This was an unprovoked assault on a vulnerable person. His attackers used an extreme level of force, leaving him with injuries and no phone to call for help."

The attack took place at 9pm on Wednesday, December 14.

PC Smith added: "I would urge anyone who used the cycle track that evening and may have seen a group of four people hanging around to contact me as soon as possible. If you know who these people are, please do not protect them anymore."

Anyone with any information should contact PC Smith on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Teenage rapist facing lengthy prison sentence

A TEENAGE rapist who subjected a woman to a savage and prolonged sex attack has been warned that he faces a long prison sentence.

Jordan Duff (18), from Harlow, was convicted by a jury at Chelmsford Crown Court on Friday of the multiple rape of a woman in Staple Tye on May 7.

Sentence was adjourned for reports but judge Charles Gratwicke warned Duff to expect a "lengthy" period in jail.

It took the jury just over 13 hours to reach guilty verdicts on the four rapes to which Duff – who was 17 at the time of the offence – subjected his victim.

During the trial prosecutor Peter Clark told the jury Duff dragged her into some bushes, telling her he was going to "show her a good time".

Her ordeal only ended when a police traffic patrol car arrived at the scene with flashing blue lights, prompting Duff to flee. In his defence, Duff claimed the woman had consented to sex and had "handed it to him on a plate".

Adjourning sentence until January 16, the judge told Duff: "You have been convicted of a vicious attack. The only sentence is one of imprisonment and it will be for a lengthy term."

Government 'failing' town's young jobless

THE woman hoping to become Harlow's next Labour MP has accused the Government of not doing enough to tackle youth unemployment in the town.

Prospective parliamentary candidate Suzy Stride, who works for a London youth charity set up to help disenfranchised youngsters find work, accused the Government of being "out of touch" with young people and the challenges they face.

New figures from the Office of National Statistics show that 27.5 per cent of the town's 18-24 year-olds (715 youngsters) are currently claiming job-seekers allowance, while the number of long-term claimants has tripled over the past year.

"Young people need the right training to get back into work, but this out of touch Government doesn't understand the challenges facing people every day," she told the Star.

"Teachers and youth workers in Harlow need the right funding in order to carry out this crucial work, but with continued cuts in youth services such as Connexions and the Occasio House One Stop Shop, young people and their families continue to be hit hard."

Calling on the coalition to abandon its "failing" economic policy and adopt Labour's five-point plan for economic growth, she added: "Young people in Harlow are at risk of becoming part of a lost generation because the Tory-led Government won't abandon a plan that isn't working."

"If they really cared about the future of Harlow they would back Labour's five-point plan for jobs which would create 4,000 jobs for young people in the East of England through a repeat of the bank bonus tax and give 210,000 small businesses a tax break to take on new employees."

But Harlow MP Rob Halfon said: "Labour left us with a legacy of 2.5m unemployed and nearly one million young unemployed. Despite this, the number of apprenticeships in Harlow has almost doubled in the last year: from 450 under Labour to 780 today."

"Although the economy is very difficult and slowing down across Europe, Harlow is better off than elsewhere. Our town's youth unemployment is lower than both the East of England and the UK average."

"But I am not complacent about this; it is a serious problem. That is why I welcome the fact there are now 482 job vacancies at the Harlow Jobcentre which is encouraging."

"I am also working hard to persuade the Government to open a new high-tech apprentice school in Harlow which would give our young people jobs and opportunities for the future, and help to put our town on the map."

Man set up a cannabis farm in sheds at parents' home

A MAN caught growing 41 cannabis plants in three sheds at his parents' home has been jailed for 21 months by a judge at Chelmsford Crown Court.

Nathan Pettitt, of Longfields, Harlow, had set up an electrical supply to the sheds to grow the plants and supplied the drug to friends, the court heard.

Pettitt admitted charges of producing cannabis, supplying the drug, possessing the drug and abstracting electricity.

Samantha Lowther, prosecuting, said police obtained a warrant to search the premises and discovered the cannabis plants, which could produce a yield worth up to £51,750 if sold at £30 a time or up to £34,500 if sold at £20 a time.

The property was owned by Pettitt's parents and he moved in in May 2010. He was said to have always planned to grow cannabis there.

Charles Corbett, representing Pettitt, said in mitigation: "He started growing cannabis for his own use and his hobby grew and grew."

Passing sentence, judge Anthony Goldstaub told the defendant: "You may think cannabis ought to be lawful; many people think that. But it is against the law and you were flouting the law."

"Cannabis rots the fabric of our society."

Prize hamper is just the ticket

ONE lucky Christmas shopper picked up more than they bargained for after winning a hamper in the British Heart Foundation's annual festive raffle.

Santa dropped into the BHF charity furniture and electrical goods store in East Gate, Harlow, on Thursday to pick the winning ticket from hundreds of entries.

The winner will now go on to enter a national prize draw for a luxury £2,500 holiday.

The fundraising draw has been running since

September and store manager Dean Crowe said he had been "bowled over" by the public's response.

"Our Christmas raffle has been a huge success again this year and I'd like to thank Santa for popping by to draw the winning ticket!" he said. "All the money raised will be put towards the British Heart Foundation's life-saving work."

PAH overwhelmed by teddies

HUNDREDS of teddy bears helped to brighten up Christmas for children in Princess Alexandra Hospital.

The young patients were delighted when the largest-ever delivery of new teddies arrived on Dolphin Ward in time for Christmas Day. The generous donation was made by members of the public who have been buying the bears for the children in Harlow's Matalan store in the Water Gardens.

Kim Garner, matron for children's health, said: "When we got the phone call to say 600 bears were going to be delivered, we thought we must have misheard. We are so grateful that the hospital is surrounded by such a wonderful community, and we cannot thank the staff at Matalan - and all the generous members of the public - enough for their help."

"Each one will go such a long way to making every child's hospital experience a positive and happy one."

Beat the Big Chill

Stop water pipes from bursting this winter by keeping them snug.

Last year in a single day, Veolia Water received 1,600 calls from local families with frozen or burst pipes at home.

You can stop this happening to your home by lagging your pipes - it's quick, easy and cheap to do.

You wouldn't expose yourself to the elements, so look after your internal pipes too. Don't get caught out, visit

Boy (11) robbed of phone at knifepoint

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after an 11-year-old boy was robbed of his mobile phone at knifepoint.

The youngster was approached by two men brandishing knives on the footpath near McDonalds at Staple Tye at 4.20pm on Saturday, December 3.

One of the men is described as white, in his late 30s, about 5ft 9ins tall with short, dark hair and wearing a dark hooded top with the hood up and dark jogging bottoms.

The other is white, about 5ft 6ins tall, in his 20s and wearing a multi-coloured woolly hat, a black bandana and dark clothing.

Anyone with any information about the robbery should contact PC Greenfield at Harlow police station on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

25 years ago in the Star

Violence, burglaries and thefts marred the start of 1987 in Harlow. The landlord of the Three Horseshoes in Great Parndon likened an outbreak of violence at the pub on New Year's Eve to a football riot. Six burglaries, four car thefts and two cases of criminal damage were also reported to police.

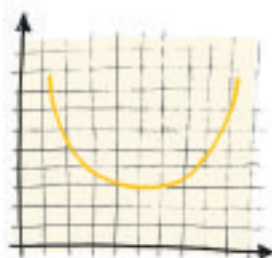

Complaints by local residents about noisy patrons of Cheeks nightclub are being investigated by councillors. Councillor Richard Howitt said he received several phone calls complaining about the club after sending out letters enquiring after any problems. The club said it now plans to start a membership system

Seven bouncing babies including a set of twins were born at Princess Alexandra Hospital on New Year's Day.

A cat called Rocky lost one of his nine lives when it spent 24 hours perched in the top branches of a 35ft-high tree. He was rescued by the fire service after the RSPCA said he was unlikely to be able to get down on his own.

IT may have closed more than 30 years ago but it would seem Spring Hills School is still fondly remembered by Nostalgia readers.

One of the first to respond to the article this month was former teacher Sue Rowley, who worked there between 1973 and 1976.

Sue thought that correspondent Stan Neville, who sent in the class photo, right, was a few years out when he suggested the school closed in the 1980s.

"I think it amalgamated with Little Parndon School in 1975, and finally closed in 1976," she said.

"The headteacher was Mr Joudrey and the teacher in the photograph is Mrs Cotton, who taught the top juniors and later became deputy head at Little Parndon Juniors."

Former Spring Hills pupil Jenny Harris (nee McRandal), who sent in the photo, top, from her time at the school, also thought it closed in the mid-1970s.

"I was there in 1975 until it shut," she said. "I'm still in contact with some of my classmates, one of whom is Sara Crane. She is the daughter of the teacher Mrs Cotton,

W HILE you can't find a pupil at Spring Hills School in Fild Crow, according to school history, British History the primary school was first opened in 1975 and closed in 1975 when the children transferred to Little Parndon School.

However, when I asked to see this photo of the school, I was told that the school was in fact closed long before that. I could be wrong of course, but I think the school was closed in 1975, and that the photo was taken in 1975.

Jenny says she remembers Spring Hills as a wonderful school which for her had one particular advantage.

"Our back garden backed onto the playground," she explained. "We all used to go to the fence at break times so my mum could give us biscuits. It was a good time!"

Crime and punishment in the 1800s

LOCAL historian and Nostalgia contributor Ron Bill has sent in information about crime and punishment in the 19th century which he thought may be of interest to readers.

Ron, of Upper Park, Harlow, comes across the details in a supplement to the Essex Society for Family History's winter magazine entitled Aboard the Hulks: Essex Convicts 1830 - 1860.

"I know this information is dated a bit older than the articles usually featured in Nostalgia but thought that people in Harlow might be as interested as I was to read about some convicts of the 1800s who were originally from Harlow," he explained.

The supplement features a list of the 404 prisoners from Essex who were sentenced by the courts between 1830 and 1860 to be transported to New South Wales in Australia or confined on huge prison ships in a bid to ease prison overcrowding. Five of these convicts were from Harlow. Two of them - John Allen (20) and John West (23) - were found guilty of stealing four live tame fowls on July 13, 1830 and sentenced to seven years transportation to Australia on the prisoner ship Argyle.

Also on the same boat was fellow James Dale (24), who was sentenced to seven years transportation for committing the heinous crime of stealing a violin on October 19, 1830.

The ship set sail February 18, 1831 but information on whether the men survived the perilous journey or ever returned to their native England is not included. Also convicted were labourers

Charles Pearse (26) and William Shipp (20) from Great Parndon. In the summer of 1846 these two young men were indicted for burglary in the dwelling house of 90-year-old Thomas Mansfield in the same village. Breaking in at night, the pair and two others stole a £5 note, three old guineas, 36 sovereigns and other property. According to the supplement: "Pearse and Shipp each received 10 years (in the hulks). Only £6 was recovered and this was returned to the old man."

New arrivals make this a very special Christmas for some

NOT everyone got to sit down to a traditional turkey dinner on Christmas Day. But for nine families, Christmas 2011 was extra special as they celebrated their new arrivals.

Nine babies were born at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital during the day, with the first making an appearance at 2.27am.

Proud parents Godfrey (36) and Sabrina (29) Osei, of Park Court, Harlow, said it was an extra special Christmas treat when their fourth son Terrell arrived at 3.17pm. He was born three weeks three weeks early and weighed in at 6lb 11oz.

"After a routine check-up on Christmas Eve they asked me to come back in the next morning for further checks," said Sabrina. "We only expected to be there for half-an-hour so we were absolutely gobsmacked when they said they wanted to induce me.

"He is a really lovely Christmas present and he's doing really well. His brothers have been especially excited at their extra gift this year!"

Carla Nunn (24), of Pottersfield, Harlow, was due to give birth to her second child with partner Anthony Boundy (26) on December 28, but baby Dakota couldn't wait to meet his parents and older sister. He was born at 6.57pm and weighed 7lb 10oz. "I had a feeling he would be awkward and arrive on Christmas day!" said Carla. "All the staff at PAH were brilliant though and he has been a wonderful addition to our Christmas this year."

Also celebrating a new arrival were Ben Thurley and Jessica Gibbs, of Bell Street, Sawbridgeworth. Their daughter Mollie Rose tipped the scales at 5lb 12oz when she was born at 1.46pm.

Pups in the spotlight

THERE may not be 101 of them but for new mum Pebbles her 15 Dalmatian puppies are quite a pawful!

Owner Kay Sullivan was stunned when her pet pooch gave birth to the enormous litter which is double the average size.

The marathon birth left two-and-half-year old Pebbles so exhausted that Kay, husband Neil and daughter Cerys had to step in to lend a hand.

Mrs Sullivan, of Carmarthenshire in Wales, told reporters: "By the time we had fed the last one it was time to go back to the first."

Thanks to their help all 15 puppies have survived, leaving the family with the task of coming up with names for the five males and ten females.

The story has drawn parallels with smash hit Disney film 101 Dalmatians because 15 is the number of puppies stolen from Dalmatian parents Pongo and Perdita.

Mrs Sullivan said the family may keep one or two of the new arrivals but were looking to sell the rest.

"We were expecting an average litter of about seven or eight; we weren't expecting 15!" she said.

"It's a bit much. We don't really want 15 dogs running around."

Star-studded line-up for anniversary year

By CHRIS MOSS

MIRTH, magic, music and mystery await Playhouse audiences in 2012 as the theatre celebrates its 40th anniversary season with a star-studded line-up of top talent.

Veteran stand-up comics Jim Davidson (March 10), Jimmy Tarbuck (May 24) and Jethro (June 15) need no introduction, and all three will be bringing their uncompromising brand of near-the-knuckle humour to town next year.

Also tickling the funny-bones will be acclaimed musical comedian Simon Munnery (February 10) and heavy-metal-drummer-turned-stand-up Simon Hughes (March 3), who has recently put in storming sets on Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow and Channel 4's Stand Up For The Week.

Drama fans will again be spoilt for choice, with the theatre offering its popular three-for-two Drama Ticket on shows including Global Productions' hotly-anticipated adaptation of The Hound of The Baskervilles (February 10-12), Phoenix Theatre Arts' provocative reworking of Shakespeare's Measure For Measure (March 21) and Global's take on Alan Bennett's Talking Heads (May 24-26).

The theatre has also teamed up with the renowned Ian Dickens Productions to stage three top-class dramas – The Cemetery Club (April 18-21), The Haunting (April 25-28) and Oscar Wilde's classic comedy The Importance Of Being Earnest – over three weeks.

Music lovers can enjoy dazzling tributes to Phil Collins (February 25), David Bowie (March 15) and Neil Diamond (March 16), while superstar vocalists Blake (March 2) Rockney legend Chas Hodges (March 9) and 1960s icons Herman's Hermits (June 14) also feature on the bill.

And with an enchanting Easter musical production of Rapunzel (April 3-8), mind-blowing magic from illusionists Barry and Stuart (June 29) and kids entertainment from Bob The Builder (February 17-18) and Sesame Street Live (March 24-25), theatre manager Scott Ramsey told the Star the programme offered something for everyone.

"It's a very special season at The Playhouse as the theatre is celebrating its 40th anniversary," he said.

"Whether you're looking for comedy, family entertainment, live music, dance or something a little different you'll find plenty to enjoy.

"We are also once again offering our Drama Ticket deal, wherein if you buy two dramas you can see a third for free.

"We have a great season of dramas in which to take advantage of the deal. I'm particularly delighted to welcome the acclaimed Ian Dickens Productions, who will present three very different shows at The Playhouse this season."

For more information, log on to www.playhouseharlow.com or pick up a copy of the new brochure from the theatre.

And there's still time to catch Peter Pan

THIS year's record-breaking Playhouse pantomime Peter Pan is coming towards the end of its month-long run – but there's still time to get your hands on tickets for the final few performances.

The hilarious family production, featuring Jacob Scipio (Cbeebies' Kerwhizzator) as the boy who never grew up and Chris Ellison (DCI Burnside from ITV cop drama The Bill) as his nefarious nemesis Captain Hook, makes its curtain call on Tuesday (January 2) after smashing box office records.

Playhouse manager Scott Ramsay said: "Peter Pan has proved to be a very popular and well-received show and word of mouth has been superb.

There's still a chance to catch some last-minute tickets, however, so don't miss out if you've yet to see the show!"

To buy tickets or check performance times, log on to www.playhouseharlow.com or call the box office on (01279) 431945.

Dragon tattoo remake is a real chiller thriller

THE GIRL WITH THE DRAGON TATTOO
certificate 18, 2h38m

IT'S been less than two years since British audiences gnawed their nails to the cuticle watching the graphically violent original adapted from the best-seller by Stieg Larsson

The Scandinavian co-production was both grimy and gritty, and deservedly garnered lead actress Noomi Rapace numerous plaudits for her mesmerising portrayal of an emotionally damaged computer hacker.

Director David Fincher delivers an eye-catching cinematic experience, aided by cinematographer Jeff Cronenweth who captures the stark beauty and fragility of the wintry Swedish locales. Editing is snappy, too, for the set pieces including fisticuffs in a subway station and a night-time chase along perilous roads.

Journalist Mikael Blomkvist (Daniel Craig, pictured) is found guilty of slandering a prominent industrialist in his magazine Millennium, edited by on-off lover Erika Berger (Robin Wright). With his reputation in tatters, Mikael accepts a commission from the reclusive Henrik Vanger (Christopher Plummer).

The old man is haunted by the disappearance of his great-niece Harriet almost 40 years earlier and he hopes that the discredited journalist will be able to find out who abducted and killed the teenager.

Taking up residence on the Vanger estate, the hack begins his investigation and he is soon aided by computer expert Lisbeth Salander (Rooney Mara), who has valuable insights to the case. Together, the unlikely sleuths follow the trail of secrets and lies, trusting no one as skeletons tumble out of the Vanger closet.

The Girl With The Dragon Tattoo is as emotionally cold as the barren lands where the case unfolds and Fincher's film isn't helped by Craig's charisma-free portrayal of a man on a mission. His fleeting, half-hearted attempts at an accent are blown away by the icy wind.

Thankfully, Mara is beguiling as the tattooed and pierced avenging angel with a brilliant mind, although she falls short of Rapace's heartbreaking interpretation.

Supporting performances are solid, notably Plummer as a wily patriarch, who beholds the rest of his clan with disdain.

Audiences unfamiliar with Larsson's book or the original film will guess the final twist identity well before Fincher's film spills the blood of the guilty.

AVENGING ANGEL: Rooney Mara stars as Lisbeth Salander in THE GIRL WITH THE DRAGON TATTOO

It's mission accomplished for fans of all-action adventure

MISSION IMPOSSIBLE - GHOST PROTOCOL
certificate 12A, 2h13m

IN the three previous Mission: Impossible films, leading man Tom Cruise has been put through his paces by different visionary filmmakers – Brian De Palma, John Woo and JJ Abrams. For this fourth high octane caper, Brad Bird – Oscar-winning director of The Incredibles and Ratatouille – has been given the task of orchestrating the slam-bang thrills.

Making his live action debut, Bird brings a playfulness and wry sense of humour to proceedings.

From the moment Tom Cruise's secret agent barks "Light the fuse" cueing Lalo Schiffrin's iconic theme music over the opening credits, our pulses race and we're strapped tight in for a giddy thrill ride.

Impossible Missions Force operative Ethan Hunt (Cruise) is sprung from a Russian jail by fellow agents Jane Carter (Paula Patton) and Benji Dunn (Simon Pegg). They are ordered to break into the Kremlin to steal intelligence files that reveal the identity of a terrorist codenamed Cobalt.

But the mission turns sour when madman Hendricks (Michael Nyqvist) detonates a bomb inside the iconic building to cover up the theft of Russian nuclear launch codes.

Disavowed by the US government, Ethan, Jane, Benji and top analyst William Brandt (Jeremy Renner) must operate outside of official channels to apprehend Hendricks before he can initiate nuclear Armageddon.

Mission: Impossible – Ghost Protocol is a delight, careening from the jail break and the demolition of the Kremlin to a breathless chase through a sand storm and a bruising skirmish in an Indian car manufacturing plant.

What Andre Nemec and Josh Appelbaum's script lacks in plausibility, it compensates with unabashed, all-guns-blazing fun.

CRUISE CONTROL: Tom Cruise as Ethan Hunt in MISSION IMPOSSIBLE: GHOST PROTOCOL

>>>still on screen

Sherlock Holmes: A Game Of Shadows
With newspapers filled with shocking headlines about anarchist bombings in Strasbourg and Vienna, the apparent overdose of a Chinese opium dealer and the death of an American steel magnate, Sherlock Holmes (Robert Downey Jr) deduces they are all linked to Professor James Moriarty (Jared Harris) and persuades his trusty sidekick Dr John Watson (Jude Law) to go on one last globetrotting adventure.

Alvin & The Chipmunks: Chipwrecked
Dave (Jason Lee) heads off on a luxury cruise with Alvin (voiced by Justin Long), Simon (Matthew Gray Gubler) and Theodore (Jesse McCartney) and the feisty Chipettes – Britney (Christina Applegate), Eleanor (Amy Poehler) and Jeanette (Anna Faris). As usual, Alvin gets into various scrapes, incurring the wrath of the ship's captain and former manager Ian (David Cross), who is working as the ship's entertainer. While Dave takes a nap, Alvin and the gang take flight on a kite and are blown onto a tropical island with an active volcano. While the chipmunks return to nature, Dave and Ian race against time to rescue the animals from their new home before it is covered in molten lava.

Puss In Boots Young Puss (voiced by Antonio Banderas) is abandoned at an orphanage where kind Imelda (Constance Marie) raises the kitten as her own. Initially picked on by the boys, Puss learns to fight to survive and helps protect fellow outcast Humpty Alexander Dumpty (Zach Galifianakis). Many years later, the surrogate brothers join forces with sexy pickpocket Kitty Softpaws (Salma Hayek) to steal magic beans which are rumoured to grow a beanstalk that leads to the giant's castle and the greatest treasure of all: the Golden Goose.

Happy Feet Two Mumble the penguin (Elijah Wood), who learned to dance in the first film, has raised a son called Erik (Ava Acres). Like his father, Erik is struggling to find his rhythm in Emperor Land and searches for answers with best friends Boadicia and Atticus in the company of wise-cracking Ramon (Robin Williams). Mumble chases after the little ones and returns home to discover a giant iceberg has slammed into their home, trapping all of the Emperor penguins to certain doom.

Arthur Christmas Santa (voiced by Jim Broadbent) has been the figurehead of the Yuletide season for decades and he proudly oversees this year's delivery of presents in his hi-tech spacecraft, masterminded with military precision by eldest son Steve (Hugh Laurie). Down in the bowels of the craft, youngest son Arthur (James McAvoy) excitedly answers correspondence from the children of the world, including a young British girl called Gwen (Ramona Marquez). A malfunction in the loading bay goes unnoticed by the elves in mission control and Gwen doesn't receive her pink bicycle. With time running out, Arthur joins forces with Grandsanta (Bill Nighy) and wrapping elf Bryony (Ashley Jensen) to deliver Gwen's gift.

New Year's Eve A starry cast of familiar faces hope to be struck by Cupid's arrow before the clock strikes midnight in New York's Times Square.

>>>movies for juniors

The Smurfs When evil wizard Gargamel chases the tiny blue Smurfs out of their village, they tumble from their magical world into New York City.

Spy Kids: All The Time In The World Retired spy Marrssa Wilson (Jessica Alba) is called back into action and invites her new stepchildren along for the adventure as she attempts to stop the evil Timekeeper from taking over the world.

Your stars with Patrick Arundell to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20

Jupiter has been rewarding in your finance sector for five months. This week it goes forwards, and this can be a trigger for better things to emerge professionally, perhaps even before the end of the year. One of the most enjoyable aspects however, can be catching up with old friends. This will prove uplifting. Call now for astral advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21

You can find yourself becoming more optimistic. This can relate to the things you are going to be doing in the holiday itself, but also in terms of your long term future. New plans can be bubbling away in your thoughts just as much as enjoying all the festive buzz. One friend can prove to be a major inspiration. Call now for more advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21

Mercury is your kingly Gemini, and now it's purring forwards in your sector of partners, and as Venus emphasizes being at ease in a different settings, you have the perfect formula to enjoy the festivities, finding it easier than usual to adapt to wherever you find yourself and whoever you are with. Happy Christmas! Call me for more...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23

The Sun motors into your people sector midweek, helping to put you in the space to reach out and share. Jupiter also ends a backward rotation on Christmas Day, and links with the New Moon and all this points towards gaining so much through the give and take of the holiday. Loved up? Things can really sizzle. Call for your love scope...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23

At this time of year you often find yourself looking after the needs of others, but all of this can seem much less onerous this time, when a sensational skyscape gives you the chance to delegate and have some fun yourself. One very funny and even cheeky person can have a big and lovely impact on your week. Call me for your in-depth forecast...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23

Your ruler helps you to be less introspective than earlier this month and with the Sun lighting up your personality sector, even if you have been slow to get into the Christmas spirit, this will be less of an issue. Time away from your normal environs can also be pleasing. A case of a change is as good as a rest. Call for more news and advice...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23

The festivities are ignited for you by the newly arrived Venus in your sector of romance. This can also trigger a more sociable vibe - especially with Mercury twinkling sweetly in your chat zone. If you have made any improvements to your home, or recently moved, you'll take great pride in sharing this with visitors. Call now for more news...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22

Jupiter ends a long backward drag, and along with a sparkling New Moon in Capricorn, this can be done to relax you and see you embrace all that's best about Christmastime. You may have a lot of interaction with the people immediately around, or siblings can play a larger role than they have in the recent past. Call your prediction line for more news...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21

You can find yourself heartily embracing all the traditional elements of Yule, and good food and wine can top your agenda. However, you can also be the benefactor of a late gift or some kind of cash windfall, which may be linked to work. With your ruler set to go forwards, generally, your energy is on the up. Call me for your financial forecast...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20

The Sun powers into your sign and with Jupiter going into forward motion, you can suddenly get into the spirit of things, and with some relish. You may also want to dash out to buy some last minute gifts for loved ones. Fortunately, the move of Venus points towards extra cash coming in, just in the nick of time. Call for your financial scope...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19

This can be a very different Christmas week for you Aquarius. You'll feel much more like joining in, and there can be some pleasant and unexpected last minute embraces. Family vibes fun are not always sweet for you, but with Jupiter going direct, you could be delighted by how things pan out. Call now for more advice...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20

It can definitely be a case of the more the merrier, and this can be a very merry week indeed. And yet despite this, you may wonder if you are missing out on something. And amongst all the high spirits and high jinxes, you could feel reflective or nostalgic. However, if you are, others will soon cajole you to join back in. Call for more news...

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

For items under £250 in the Herts & Lea Valley Star,
Harlow Star, Mercury Series
and the Observer Series

To advertise your articles for sale for the price of just a phone call or text, just follow these two simple steps...

1 Before calling us, write down all that you want your advertisement to say. There is a minimum of 12 words per advert, but you can have as many classified adverts as you need. Remember, strictly one item per phone call and the item must be priced at £250 or less. Any items received that do not carry a price will not be published.

2 Now call us on 0905 624 2025
LINES OPEN 24 HOURS PER DAY SEVEN DAYS PER WEEK.
This service lasts approximately two minutes, plus the length of your message. Calls charged at £1.02 per minute plus network extras; calls from mobile will cost considerably more. Service provided J-Media (UK) Ltd.

or text 87070

Start your text with HEN then your advert to a maximum of 20 words. You do not need to add your phone number unless it is different to the mobile used to text the advert.
Example: HEN (space) G. Plan two piece suite, two seater sofa and armchair, super condition £99. Charged at £1.50 per text plus normal network charges. Only one item per text.

If you have any queries relating to advertisements placed via this service please call our helpline...

Helpline: 0844 8001188

OPENING HOURS: 9AM - 5PM

Please allow for a possible two/three week delay. This offer is restricted to private articles for sale and does not include articles wanted, pets, cars, motor spares, boats, motorcycles, caravans, property and investments, imitation or unlicensed firearms, offensive weapons and cannot be cancelled or amended. Advertisements will be deleted where callers name, address and telephone number have not been provided.

For articles over £250 you can also place an advert at our office or simply call 01992 526666 or email advertising@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Harlow Town 4, Ware 0 Ryman League division one north

THERE were no seasonal hiccups as the Hawks beat second-from-bottom Ware resoundingly at home on Boxing Day.

Harlow Town have dropped points against lowly teams this season but Ware, managed by former Spurs player Stuart Nethercott, were second best on Monday.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "We have dropped points against lower teams and spoke about this [to the team]. We put this right."

Harlow had new striker Jeff Hammond on the bench and striker James Peagram responded to his presence with two goals.

Peagram had been a doubt after being taken off with concussion in Harlow's last game at Great Wakering Rovers. But he was allowed to miss training in midweek and repaid the manager's faith with an excellent brace.

Chapman said: "Although his pace gets him behind defenders, James had not concentrated well in front of goal."

"Although Jeff had joined, James had done well in the two previous games. James took on board what we said and did well."

The opening exchanges were fairly even and Kain Roomes fired wide with just home keeper Bertrand Bossu to beat.

Harlow took the lead on the half-hour mark. Piers Wixon scored from the penalty spot after Callum Adebisi was adjudged to have fouled Getro Kilapi.

Within four minutes Harlow doubled their advantage when Peagram nodded home a Mark Taylor free-kick from the right.

The result was virtually settled on 52 minutes when Kilapi nodded in at the back post after a cross from the left by Michael Deane.

Peagram wrapped up the scoring on the hour mark when a pass set him clear and he went on to shoot home.

Chapman said: "I did not think we deserved to be 2-0 up at the break and if I was Ware I would have felt hard done by."

"We had not kept the ball well and had not taken the game by the scruff of the neck."

He added: "We controlled the second half from start to finish. I could not have been happier."

HARLOW TOWN: Bossu, Barnard, Deane (Hammond, 55), Haverson, Kirby, Kilapi, Marshall (Smith, 75), Lalite, Wixon, Peagram, Taylor. Subs not used Mann, Bruno, Lemonious. Attendance 158.

Keeper signing strengthens Hawks push for league title

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman has boosted his goalkeeping cover with the signing of Charlie Mann.

The 19-year-old keeper was released by npower Championship club Crystal Palace at the end of last season. More recently he has had trials with npower League One club Stevenage and Blue Square Bet South club Eastleigh.

Mann was on the bench for the Boxing Day game against Ware and Chapman is pleased to have him on board. "He has come through Steve Walduck (Harlow's keeper coach) and Steve is very impressed with him," said Chapman.

"It is nice to have him on board. I have only heard positive things about him so far."

Meanwhile, Chapman's is focused on getting six points from the next two matches in Ryman League division one north. Harlow, who are seventh in the table and two points off a play-off spot, host Chatham Town this Saturday (KO 1pm) before they play at Potters Bar Town on Bank Holiday Monday (KO 3pm).

Chapman said: "Chatham are not far behind and it is important we do a proper job against them. It will not be easy at Potters Bar. People do not give them much credit but their manager, Adam Lee, has done a fantastic job there."

"If we can get six points that will be very good. I said that if we get two points a game we can win the league and we are not far short of that."

Chapman expects new striker Jeff Hammond to take time to settle in but he will be without midfielder Ryan Maxwell, who is suffering from a hamstring injury. "Ryan pulled up in training last week and will not be available."

Chapman said that Tom Bruno has been suffering from an achilles problem but could play in their next two games. After that Bruno may be rested for a week.
